

GOOD

MORNING

Welcome to The Diamond Shoals Restaurant.

We would like to take a moment to give you a brief history of Diamond Shoals. Many miles of shoals and sandbars lie just beneath the surface of the rough waters off Hatteras Island and ships throughout history have found negotiating this area to be extremely treacherous, even deadly. Diamond Shoals is a large shifting sandbar that extends southeast from Cape Point for a distance of roughly 12 miles. In an attempt to aid navigation for passing ships, construction of the first Cape Hatteras lighthouse began in 1799. It took four years to complete and was lit in the fall of 1803. However, the distance from shore to the outer edge of Diamond Shoal was so great, the light could not always be seen and consequently proved inadequate at warning passing ships of the imminent danger. In 1824, a lightship was anchored on the outer edge of the shoal. A rendering of this historic vessel appears on our menus. Eventually, it was destroyed by a storm and washed up days later on the beaches of Ocracoke Island. In the ensuing years, it was replaced with two more lightships and finally the 175 foot tower that stands over Diamond Shoals today.

We hope you enjoy your stay on Hatteras Island. We are proud to be a part of the rich history and culture of Hatteras Island. Come and see us again when your travels brings you back to the Outer Banks.
